Automated External Defibrillators (AEDs)

Automated External Defibrillators (AEDs) are devices designed to be portable, lightweight, and easy to use. AEDs analyze the heart's rhythm to determine if a shock is necessary on a Sudden Cardiac Arrest (SCA) victim. Depending on the device you have, you may have to press a button to deploy a shock to the victim or your unit will deliver it for you. While some AEDs have additional features, all AEDs verbally walk users step-by-step through the process to ensure proper use of the AED. Certain AEDs have additional features that can contribute to a more confident rescue. Some features include a screen for visual instructions, CPR compression feedback, Wi-Fi capabilities, child mode, and many more. No matter what AED you choose, you are one step closer to creating a safe rescue-ready environment.

Semi-Automatic & Fully-Automatic

AEDs come in two options, semi-automatic or fully-automatic. Semi-automatic AEDs will require users of the AED to press a button to deploy the shock if necessary. Furthermore, fully-automatic AEDs will deliver the shock for you, eliminating the necessity of pressing any button.

AED Maintenance

All AEDs are built to be easy to maintain with only two swapping parts, pads and batteries. Pads have an expiration date because they contain a gel that dries up as time goes by. Without having a proper layer of gel, the AED will not be able to deliver a shock to the victim. The batteries installed in an AED also wear out over time as it performs its self-maintenance checks. Self-maintenance checks vary by device, but they are performed either daily, weekly, or monthly. In addition to an AEDs self check, you want to manually take a look at your device to make sure its signaling that it is rescue-ready. Each AED unit has its own rescue-ready signal, whether it is a green flashing light or a checkmark. To confirm your device's rescue ready signal, read the manual that came with your device.

Defibtech Lifeline™

The Defibtech Lifeline™ has won awards due to its unique design. It's difficult to miss this unit with a bright yellow color and black accents all around. An important feature of Defibtech AEDs is its support for a data card to be installed. This data card can store data for event review and be used for easy upgrades.

The Defibtech™ Lifeline features

- Easy two-button operation
- IP54 rating for dust protection and water resistance
- Portable with a weight of 4.2 lbs.
- Rubberized grip handle for carrying
- Pads tucked away in the back, ready to apply
- 8 Year manufacturer warranty
- Adult and pediatric electrode pad life of 2 years
- Battery standby life is 5 or 7 years

Philips® HeartStart OnSite

The Philips HeartStart OnSite AED contains innovative technology based on extensive research and feedback. This technology includes a heart rhythm assessment (SMART Analysis) and the defibrillation energy delivery (SMART Biphasic). The small and lightweight form-factor allows it to be easily portable anywhere you go. Pulling the green tab in the front will give access to the pads and activate the AED with its audio instructions. Pressing the “i” informational button in the front will give you the status on your OnSite AED to find out if your pads or battery are in need of maintenance.

Philips® HeartStart FRx

The HeartStart FRx is an advanced AED unit offered by Philips. It comes preconnected with their SMART Pads II that can be used for both adult and children. To activate child mode, the additional Infant/Child Key can be purchased to allow the FRx to reduce the shock energy to an appropriate level for the child victim. The device adjusts itself to keep up at the pace of the rescuer’s actions. Need to transfer data? The infrared data port allows for easy transmission to a smartphone or PC that’s running Event Review software.

Available: Philips HeartStart FRx Pediatric Key

The Philips® HeartStart FRx features

- Semi-automatic AED

Zoll® AED Plus

High-quality CPR is essential when delivering defibrillation, which is why the Zoll® AED Plus offers CPR-D Padz. The CPR-D Padz allows users to know where to give chest compressions and feedback on compression rate and depth with a bar gauge on the LCD screen. Use the lid by placing it under the SCA victim's shoulder to help open up the airway.

The Zoll® AED Plus features

- CPR-D Padz for real-time CPR feedback
- Screen for text instructions and CPR bar gauge
- 7 year manufacturer warranty
- Weight of 6.7 lbs.
- Adult and pediatric pad life of 5 years
- Battery standby life of 5 years

Electrode Pads

When it comes to life-saving devices, you want to be sure you have the highest quality products available. That's why we offer OEM AED electrode pads that are tested and approved for use with every make & model automated external defibrillator. Electrode pads are made with a conductive gel that helps provide optimum electrical transmission during cardiac emergencies.

Pediatric Pads

Pediatric Electrode Pads are intended to be used on children 8 years or younger or weighing less than 55 pounds (25kg). These pads deliver a shock with reduced energy to properly treat children suffering from sudden cardiac arrest successfully.

Aviation Batteries

Sudden Cardiac Arrest (SCA) can occur at anytime, even on planes. With lithium battery restrictions from the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) and airlines it could be challenging to get AEDs on board. Thankfully manufacturers offer specialized aviation batteries that are FAA approved.

Automated Chest Compression (ACC) Systems

Automated Chest Compression (ACC) Systems deliver adequate and consistent chest compressions for victims suffering from cardiac arrest. ACC Systems help limit the many challenges of CPR such as fatigue, stability, and compression depth. These systems are also easy to deploy and use and serves as an essential tool for both patients and first responders.

Stryker Lucas 3.1

The LUCAS chest compression system helps emergency care teams around the world do what they do best; save lives. With high-quality chest compressions and fewer interruptions than manual CPR, LUCAS is your partner that will administer guidelines-consistent, high-quality compressions until the job is done.

- Delivers guideline-consistent chest compressions at a rate of 100 compressions per minute
- Removes the need to switch fatigued rescuers during CPR
- Can operate for up to 15 minutes on its rechargeable battery

Defibtech Lifeline ARM XR

The Lifeline ARM XR is an automated solution for providing victims of sudden cardiac arrest high-quality and continuous CPR that is associated with better survival outcomes. Easy to deploy and use, the device delivers compressions, with complete chest recoil, at the depth and rate recommended by the AHA/ERC cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) guidelines.

- Delivers continuous high-quality CPR compressions
- Depth adjustment enables treatment for large and small patients
- Operating battery life for 60 minutes from battery or AC power

Choking Rescue

The LifeVac is a portable, convenient, and easy-to-use Airway Clearance Device (ACD) designed to remove airway obstructions when standard protocol has been performed without success. This ACD has been created using a one-way valve that prevents air from pushing an obstruction further downwards, but suctions the obstruction upwards clearing the airway. The suction generates negative pressure that is 3 times greater than the highest choke pressure recorded.

EOLife Manual Ventilation Feedback

The EOLife and EOLife X are the first smart manual ventilation feedback devices allowed to adapt to any bag, mask and tracheal tube. They have the ability to measure and give real time feedback on insufflated volume, tidal volume, as well as ventilation rate and gas leakage warnings.

EOLife

FDA-cleared medical device giving visual feedback to responders to provide ventilation in accordance with ERC or AHA recommendations. EOLife eliminates the room for error and improves manual ventilation quality by over 70%! The temperature and atmospheric pressure sensors allow EOLife to self-calibrate the measurements and guarantee unequalled accuracy in extreme conditions. With IP44 rating, EOLife is certified for ambulance transport and outdoor conditions. It's easy to use and operates within seconds of turning on.

EOLife X Trainer

EOLife X enables training on adult and pediatric (> 1 year) manikins. The pediatric ventilation feature on EOLife X offers a unique way for EMS instructors, students and other healthcare professionals to train for pediatric ventilation in cardiac arrest. After selecting pediatric mode, users can select from a range of age groups to adjust for adequate ventilation measurements. The addition of Bluetooth allows users the ability to track their progress for ongoing and regular training with the EOLife Connect* app. Trainees have proven to be able to provide better quality ventilation as early as after their first training session.
